DR. NORCROSS RECEIVES MANY INVITATIONS

Dr. J. E. Norcross, of New York, who is speaking in Bismarck, has received more invitations to speak than he can accept.

"Those Inside and those Outside," was Dr. Norcross's subject at the Baptist church last night. Tonight and tomorrow evening will be his last week night address before leaving Bismarck. A full program is laid out for Sunday.

Besides two sermons, one at 10:45 a. m. and one at 7:45 p. m., he will speak to men only Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Dr. Norcross goes to Jamestown Monday for a two weeks' speaking engagement and then will spend two weeks in Fargo before returning east.

MRS. BLEWETT DISCUSSES MUSIC IN AMERICA BEFORE STATE FEDERATION OF CLUBS

INFORMAL BALLOT STARTS FOR CLUB OFFICERS

Some of the candidates: President—Mrs. C. W. Cunningham, Mandan; Mrs. E. W. Cunningham, Larimore; Mrs. O. W. McClusky, Carleton.

Auditor—Mrs. C. A. McLean, Kenmare.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Herbert Hallenberg, Fargo.

Two directors—Mrs. C. J. Lord, Cando; Mrs. Blewett, Jam. Lord, Cando; Mrs. Blewett, Jamestown; Mrs. Featherstone, of Valley City.

Mrs. Andrew Blewett of Jamestown read a very fine paper at the federation on Music in America, which was a valuable addition to the music program. Her address follows:

"Musical instruction in the United States costs over $220,000,000 annually. This is twenty-five million dollars more than is expended to maintain all of our high schools, colleges and universities combined.

"American people spend annually over six hundred million dollars for music. Of this amount more than $220,000,000 is for musical education. Eight million dollars was spent abroad by American students before the war for musical education. This shows a great waste of exclusive private tutoring. Musical education should be regulated the same as any other education, so that the masses can be educated in this great branch of training as well as in other branches. The heavy cost of a musical training of this day makes it prohibitive for the children of poorer classes who might develop great genius if given the opportunity. One Chicago firm has $20,000 invested in a musical library and instruments for its employees. What does music do? According to Dr. Claxton, 'It stirs the human soul deeper than any thought can ever go. Intellectual movements are little ripples on the surface of the sea, but the emotions aroused by music are like a great tidal wave which stirs the sea to its greatest depth.'

"According to Mr. Arthur Farwell, 'This is our national judgment day in music.' What shall we do about it?"

"You, the members of the National Federation of Musical clubs and of the General Federation of Musical clubs are two organizations which may exert a tremendous force in creating public opinion and popular recognition of music by educators and state authorities. When music is truly recognized at its just worth there will be fewer crimes, fewer jails, and hospitals for the insane and mentally sick. For music has a therapeutic value. In New York there are more than sixty different languages spoken. It may come to pass that community choruses may become the melting pot for unifying this heterogeneous mass, that the complete realization and appreciation of our democratic American ideals, of loyalty, and patriotism on the part of all the people may be brought about through the universal language of song.

"What effect has the late war had upon music? Charles D. Isaacson says: 'There are those who profess to have seen in the great war the death of all art and particularly felt that music had suffered a setback. As a matter of fact the war gave impetus to music, which crowded into a few months the equivalent of years of effort. It seems as if the war was the best thing that ever happened to music. The necessities of the moment created a new demand for music. It discovered the rightfulness of its power and admitted the rightfulness of its place. It was no longer a luxury, it was a necessity. It was no longer a property of a few. That which makes hearts light and gives gladness to the weak and the sick, the troubled and the oppressed, which is the world's best preacher because it never deals with words and deeds, but is something you cannot express as subtle and spiritual as the rarest love which goes straight to the soul of man, and was intended for all mankind.

"Operas were not written for a fashionable audience. Beethoven did not live for a few to hear his symphonies. The average person needs but two of the concerts to get the liking. Once the music is in the soul the hunger for music becomes insatiable. Great music is something you get much out of. It isn't simply pretty sounds. It is a series of pictures, a set of definite actions, a continued story. And you have to do when you hear music is to set your imagination at work. What is the piano and the violin saying to you?"

"In the camps and on the other side concerts were demanded by the soldier population. The United States government having observed the usefulness of community singing as a means of class distinction introduced the idea into the camps. Every camp had singing leader. His job was to bet the boys singing and thus get them happy. Once the music was felt the men carried on the 'sings' all the time on the march, at drill, at work, and after mess. It was a great diversion and diversion they needed. The men turned to music because they could not help it. The phonograph was a great gift here. They would at first try to dance songs and pass by the classical sounding records. But a few evenings and in desperation they gave up those empty sounding melodies and essayed an operatic aria. And they used it again and again and unconsciously the realization of good music was accomplished. Then came the big entertainments in the huts and the auditoriums. Vaudeville stars thinking they knew the mentality of the men, burst forth with the very songs that were discarded from the record. Of course looking at the women and the men was good fun, but when artists appeared and sang and played good music it was the best of all. Michaelman, the great violinist, made a bigger hit than the prettiest girl from the Polles. Paul Allhouse, the tenor from the Metropolitan Opera House was infinitely better applauded than the best wing dancer. Florence Macbeth, the soprano of the Chicago Opera company, was given more encores than any whole jazz band. And the more complex compositions of these artists were listened to more profoundly than the simpler ones. All they needed was a viewpoint of understanding a mind receptive to good music. A curious anticipation to interpret the harmonies to make the listeners keep their minds at work all the time.

"piano and violin recital such as would be programmed for the most serious concert audiences in the world held 10,000 soldiers on a blazing hot night in August. Among the men were those from the farms, the factories, the city and hamlets. Many of them never had any use for music. Many had never known the slightest bit of classical melody. They were driven to listen, but they were not driven to stay or to come again. And if you want to learn what those classical concerts have meant to hundreds of thousands of soldiers in the camps, ask a soldier. Ask General Pershing or any of the men who had charge of a company of soldiers. The one purpose was accomplished, men were made happy. In South America there was a leading establishment, buying 5,000 workers turning out 10,000 shells a day. Laborers mingled with professional men. Twelve longways made the place like Babel. Music acted as the melting pot. The day after the first concert the superintendent reported that the output had increased 10 per cent over any other day in the history of the plant. The officials attributed this phenomenal result to the new life and enthusiasm which had been instilled into the men and women by the concert. Concerts thereafter meant more shells. It created millions of new listeners, new boosters, new customers of music. It will bring results for art in the next 10 to 15 years.

"The people everywhere are breaking down old traditions. Instead of being for the clique and the few music is coming into its own, to help to solace and brighten the lives of many artists and composers. Good music will shortly displace in popularity the present popular music. Vaudeville managers are sensing this evolution. You now find opera stars doing a high class act and they are being received with louder applause. The society of American Singers finished last spring a successful venture of the kind. Those who wished to keep music for the few resented giving it in the vernacular. But last season English succeeded. A new kind of audience made its appearance, not society folk, but real people who came to listen and went away humming and whistling. We are entering upon the era of the People's Art."

MRS. MCCLUSKY SENDS GREETINGS

Mrs. Robert McBride, Vice-President at large, It is with a feeling of deepest and most sincere interest that I send greetings and good wishes to you all today and trust that every delegate officer, committee member, and visitor, will receive that for which they came and that they return with a message of love, determination and enthusiasm for the ideals of our federation and filled with a vision for future usefulness. there was a short business session. The final report of the credential committee was given and then the delegates listened to greetings from the State Nurse's association given by Miss Louise Hoernemann.

Most of the remainder of the morning was taken up with the reports of the vice presidents. Those reports were: Mrs. McBride, Cavalier; Mrs. E. W. Cunningham, Larimore; Mrs. James Messing, Mohall; Mrs. C. P. Holmes, Crosby; Mrs. H. L. Bolley, Fargo; Mrs. W. E. Hoopes, Carrington; Mrs. W. M. Hutchinson, Lamoure; Mrs. Mark F. Jones, Beach; Mrs. C. S. Busck, Jamestown.

Reports were confined to six minutes each.

One of the morning features was a piano solo by Mrs. O. F. Johnson, which was delightfully given and enthusiastically received.

Report of the revision committee was given by Mrs. H. L. Bolley, of Fargo and an address on the "League of Women Voters" was assigned to Mrs. Featherstone of Valley City. A solo was given by Mrs. John French and at noon an adjournment was taken when an informal ballot was taken.

Luncheon was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. Sessions were resumed this afternoon. At 4 p. m. the delegates were to be given an automobile ride about the city.

The evening session will be devoted to the endowment fund benefit concert at the Auditorium and will be in charge of the Bismarck Musical club. A most attractive program has been arranged.

Why Are Skin Diseases So Difficult to Overcome?

When your skin breaks out with itching eruptions, tetter, rash, eczema, psoriasis, or other terrifying disorders, temporary relief will do you but little good, for soon all the itching and irritation breaks out afresh with renewed fury, and you soon realize that local remedies such as ointments, salves and similar treatment will never rid you of your trouble.

stantial relief you must treat them through the blood. The best remedy for this purpose is S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that purifies the blood of disease germs, and thus restores the skin to a normal and healthy condition. Begin taking S.S.S. today, and write a complete history of your case, and our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address: Chief Medical Ad. Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic and I would have to have an operation. That was a awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, some day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am already and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."

Mrs. H. Koenig, 617 Ellis Blvd., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have trouble similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."

Mrs. PAUL PAPERHOUSE, 1925 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

CITY'S BUDGET FOR 1920 MADE BY COMMISSION

Tax Rate Probably to be Same as Last Year Under New Appropriations

SOME SALARIES RAISED

Appropriation for City Library
Also Increased for 1920

The city budget for one year dating from Sept. 1, 1920, has been adopted by the city commission. The tax rate the period based on the budget will be fixed about the first of November by the county auditor. It is probable that the tax rate will be about the same as last year, or perhaps a trifle lower due to increased valuation placed on city property.

The budget is increased in some respects over last year and lower in others. There is a net increase of approximately $16,000.

Necessary increases were made in some salaries by the city commission. The appropriation for the city library was increased from $2,000 to $3,000.

"GETS-IT" -PAINLESS CORN REMOVER

This Corn Remover is Guaranteed. Throw away that dangerous razor and plaster. Don't waste your time simply "treating" that pestiferous aching corn! Get rid of it with "Gets-It." Remove it.

The Safe, Simple, Quick, Painless Corn Remover.

Simply apply two or three drops of this favorite corn remedy and your pain from "WHIP" corn ceases forever. Then in two or three days if the corn has not dropped off take hold with your fingers and lift it off as easily as you peel a banana! You never enjoyed such instant, delightful relief from corn misery. You never used any thing so perfect as "Gets-It." It never fails.

"Gets-It" costs but a trifle at any drug store. Money back guaranteed. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Bismarck and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Cowan's Drug store and Lephart Drug Co.

Five hundred dollars more was added for the poor. The chief of police was given an increase of $300.

Paving Appropriation
An increase was made in the appropriation for paving district No. 3 this being one of the chief items. The law permits the city to assume 10 per cent of the cost of paving and this was done to take care of the cost of paving street intersections.

MRS. CRANE URGES PARK SYSTEM IN LOCAL SPEECH

sure against the ever prevailing waste of the city's funds and resources, these points must be insisted upon on no infrequent. Mrs. Crane referred to a new and novel plan now under trial in one of the Pacific Coast cities, that of burial of all matter, in as well as animal and vegetable matter, to the depth of perhaps four inches thereby excluding the light but admitting the air. It is claimed by its promoters that this method causes the matter to disappear within a short period as a year. The plan proposes that layer after layer be added and covering of earth laid over. Mrs. Crane is watching the plan with interest and suggests that interested individuals look up the matter.

Road Building
Taking up road building and street paving the very practical phases of road construction were handled with the ease and technical knowledge of the highway engineer, though entirely untechnical in terms and presentation. She reviewed the comparative values of clay, macadamized, composition and asphalt roads and streets, pointed their desirable features and their faults, pointed out comparative in expense and the desirability of the different formations for different problems and projects of road building. The common sense action of attending to sewers, gas pipes, etc., before succumbing to an attack of high cost of paving for a town was graphically and humorously demonstrated.

Street Cleaning
From construction the speaker passed to the more prosaic subject of street cleaning, up-keep of alley ways, approaches to towns and cities by railroad and highway. It was shown that the street sweeper may come to have as much pride in cleaning his patrol of street as the housewife has in keeping her kitchen floor rubbed and swept; that the street commissioner may be conferred with to the end that an intelligent understanding exists between those whom he serves and those who serve him. Mrs. Crane slipshod methods never brought any results but waste of civic funds and disheartenment of the citizens.

Small Streets
Alley ways, it was pointed out, are small streets. They must have the reasonable care that promotes cleanliness, sanitation, drainage, safety, fire, and ease and comfort of the users. The scientific construction of the alley way to insure drainage was noted.

Approaches to the town—the hane of most communities—was deplored, suggestions given for remedying the defects, risk pride of citizens appealed to, and schemes for improvement outlined.

Public Health
Public health was of necessity, carried along in the discussion of streeting the subject in the consideration of care of meats groceries and milk. Here as elsewhere Mrs. Crane urged the common-sense, courteous approach to the dealer; not in the spirit of condemnation and righteous indignation at the outset. It was shown that in average cases the dealer is not more careless than his public. If he is shown that the public and patrons wish less flies on the meat, the result will be but into effect for the good of trade. If mothers of children show the milk dealer that the milk must be pasteurized—not a commercial imitation of this method, vigilance is shown in having the correction made, it will be good business.

Beauty Sports for Women
A woman's fondest hope is to stay young. She often resorts to paints, powders and cosmetics to hide her years. Some women pay large sums to so called "Beauty Doctors" in the belief that money will buy youth. Others wear girdle dresses, thinking they can fool the world about their age. But no one is deceived. The more you try to hide your age, the more it shows.

There is but one thing that holds old age back, and that is health. Strength and weakness bring old age early in life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. It is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy and who have backache and dragging pains. Prescribe Prescription—in altogether vegetable and without a particle of alcohol. It is safe to take. Try it now. In tablet or liquid form as all druggists, or send for trial package of the tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

BEATS GASOLINE AT 15 CENTS A GALLON
New Invention Makes Ford Run 34 Miles on Gallon of Gasoline and Starts Easy in Coldest Weather Other Cars Show Proportionate Savings.

A new Carburetor which cuts down gasoline consumption of any motor including the Ford, and reduces gasoline bill from one-third to one-half is the proud achievement of the Air Friction Carburetor Co., 738 Madison St., Dayton, Ohio. This remarkable invention not only increases the power of all motors from 30% to 50%, but enables every one to run slow on high gear. It also makes it easy to start a Ford or any other car in the coldest weather without previously warming the motor. With it you can use the very cheapest grade of gasoline or half gasoline and half kerosene and still get more power and more mileage than you can get from the highest test gasoline. Many Ford owners say they now get as high as 45 to 50 miles to a gallon of gasoline. So sure are the manufacturers of the immense saving their new carburetor will make that they offer to send it on 30 days' trial to every car owner. As it can be put on or taken off in a few minutes by anyone all readers of this paper who want to try it should send their name, address and make of car to the manufacturers at once. They also want local agents, to whom they offer exceptionally large profits. Write them today—Advt.

NEW GARAGE TO BE ERECTED ON SECOND STREET
Louis Carufel Announces Plans for New Addition to "Auto Row"

A two-story garage building will be erected next spring by Louis H. Carufel on Second street, between Main and Broadway, he announced today. The lot, which is in the rear of the Carufel garage, was purchased from Dr. McLaughlin. "This section is becoming automobile row," said Mr. Carufel, "and the building will be needed strictly for two stories with a basement. Recently the M. H. Gillman company announced that the first unit of a four-story distributing and sales building would be erected next spring on the corner of Broadway and Second street."

FEDERATION TEA AT COUNTRY CLUB IMPRESSES MEMBERS WHO ENJOYED FEW SOCIAL HOURS AT POPULAR CENTER

The annual federation tea, which is a very important social feature of the State Federation of women's clubs in our state, was held this year at the picturesque country club house. The decorations were Japanese in scheme and the numbers of Japanese lanterns shedding the softest of light on tables wreathed in smilax and white carnations made a picture beautiful and satisfying to the two hundred three guests and their fifty-three hostesses from among the club women of Bismarck. Distinguished guests at the function were the three men from the faculties of State University and Agricultural college who came on from the Valley to take part in the afternoon program of the federation. During the service a musical program was given under the direction of Mrs. Graham consisting of a piano solo by Mrs. Arthur Bauer; two Italian folk songs, in duet by Mrs. J. A. Jardine and Mrs. Ernest Wright of Fargo; Mrs. Bolster of Bismarck sang two numbers the "Voice of Sakina;" Mrs. Marie Lisch of Dickinson St. Cecilia club sang two numbers, accompanied by Miss Blanche Flanagan of Dickinson. The numbers were Spanish love songs.

charmingly gracious presided in a manner to make all happy and many were the witty responses for the closing feature of the dinner. The evening dinner was given over to a program at the Presbyterian church, composed of a chorus of local voices and numbers by visiting women. Mrs. Mary Walter of Devils Lake was most pleasing in a vocal solo, followed by a violin solo by Mrs. Dan Preston, of Fargo. A two piano number by Miss Clara Pollock and Mrs. Weisler of Fargo was enthusiastically received and Mrs. Merton J. Orr of Jamestown closed the musical program with songs. All were enjoyed and the program was a delight to the assembly.

Mrs. Stapleton of Milwaukee, head of the state work in Wisconsin outlined in detail the work of the state Federation of Music clubs, making the subject one of intense interest. At the close of the program an informal reception to visitors was held and the session adjourned happy and pleased with their first federation meeting in North Dakota.

VELOUR AND FUR COMBINED IN CHIC COAT

BY CORA MOORE, New York's Fashion Authority.

New York, Oct. 7. — It would be difficult to find a more interesting feature of fashions than the clever way in which fur and cloth are to be combined in one garment for the coming cold-weather seasons. This coat in which Gail Kane has posed is an excellent example of what is being done along this line and, incidentally, it suggests an admirable way to make over, for this originally was a half-length cape. The remodel-er draped it to a straight-line coat of velour, blousing it a bit and adding the fringe, which is a combination of chenille and silk threads. The cape is lined separately and it is not fastened up the front with the coat but allows the free play of the arms through the cloth sleeves of the coat. A soft draped collar puts the finishing touch to this unusual and very effective garment.

They should, above all, know just whom they are doing business with and try to determine whether their future good will and satisfaction means anything to the person they are buying from or whether immediate profit is the sole object of the deal.

OFFERS SERVICE TO PURCHASERS OF USED AUTOS

Dodge Brothers Distributors Will Give Advice to Prospective Purchaser

An unusual service, in view of the fact that it is intended primarily for persons who do business with a competitor, has been announced by the M. B. Gilman Co., Dodge Brothers dealers in this city. The service is for the benefit of those who buy used Dodge Brothers motor cars on the open market and who are in doubt as to the age and condition of the car.

"Any man who buys a used Dodge Brothers motor car, if he brings it to us for inspection, can learn definitely when the car was built," said Mr. Gilman. "While we operate a used car market ourselves we will gladly give this information because we feel that a man who owns a Dodge Brothers car is a 'member of the family' regardless of whether he comes in through the front or back door, and we owe him certain definite courtesies."

"Owing to the fact that Dodge Brothers cars are not built in series of models and never have shown any material change in appearance, it is often very difficult to determine just how old the car is. Therefore it is easy to make gross misrepresentation to prospective purchasers. Many a man has been told he is buying a 1919 Dodge Brothers car when in reality the car was built three or four years earlier."

"Dodge Brothers have supplied us with complete records of production, so that we are enabled, through certain numbers on the car, to tell just when it was built."

"It would pay the public to be more careful in buying used cars. People should insist on the accurate information they are entitled to when buying."

Mazola—the choice of leading hotels, clubs, and railroad dining cars in America!

WOMEN everywhere are finding out that lard is one of the most unsatisfactory of all cooking fats. It is absorbed into the food, making it heavy, soggy and indigestible at times. So much lard is taken up by the food during cooking that it becomes more expensive to use.

Mazola is 100% pure vegetable oil. It never penetrates into the food, but sears fish or meat over, and preserves all the good flavors. At the same time, it makes the food more digestible.

You too, should use Mazola for all cooking, baking, frying and sautéing purposes.

Thousands of people everywhere use Mazola as a delicious salad dressing, in preference to olive oil or any other vegetable oil. It costs about half what an acceptable grade of olive oil would cost.

MISS MINNIE NIELSON'S STATUS DEFINED

A communication to the Killdeer Herald, signed by Mrs. Esther Liederbach, attacks Miss Minnie J. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction. In ridiculing Miss Nielson's efforts to preserve the best traditions in our schools and to prevent socialistic propaganda taking the place of education in the schools, she makes two statements, as follows:

"The boards of education have jurisdiction over the city schools; boards of directors, chosen by the people, have jurisdiction over town and consolidated schools; three directors, chosen by the township, have charge of finance of country schools, but the state superintendent prescribes the text books and has entire supervision of these. "The state superintendent of education is chairman of the educational commission, one of the duties being the investigating of all text books."

A woman voter, living on a farm out of Killdeer, who is deeply interested in the welfare of our schools asks The Tribune if these statements are true, or if it is unfair propaganda being spread against Miss Nielson.

She asks: "Does not Mrs. Liederbach make a positive misstatement when she says that Miss Nielson is chairman of the educational commission and that one of her duties is to select the text books for the public schools, and that she inspects them, and has entire supervision of them?"

The laws by which attempts were made to destroy the power of Miss Nielson are the best answer to the unfounded charges made against Miss Nielson.

Section 6 of the school law says: Said board (board of administration) shall make all necessary rules and regulations for * the general supervision of the public schools of the state." It further says: "It shall have the power to appoint a temporary school commission to consist of the superintendent of public instruction, the high school inspector and one other member, to investigate the kinds and costs of library books, and text books for use in public schools of this state, and the question of uniformity of text books, and the printing and distribution of same by the state, with such recommendations as the commission may deem proper. Said commission shall report to the board on or before July 1, 1920, its findings and recommendations, and thereafter shall cease to exist."

It further says: "The board of administration shall appoint an educational commission, to consist of the state superintendent of public instruction, who shall be ex-officio chairman of the commission, and four other members appointed by the board for a period of two years * * * to have charge and supervision of the certification of teachers, standardization of schools, examinations for eighth grade and high school pupils, preparation of courses of study for the several classes of public schools, and such other work as may be assigned to it by the board."

These laws are carefully framed so as to give the appearance that the state superintendent of public instruction is given power and duties, but so as to tie her hands and make her a powerless member of the board, turning the control of the schools into the hands of appointees of the board of administration.

The state superintendent of public instruction does not prescribe the text books nor does she have entire supervision of them. Mrs. Liederbach is wrong in this statement.

The state superintendent of public instruction is not chairman of a body designated to investigate all text books. Again Mrs. Liederbach is wrong.

Section 6 provided that the board of education might appoint a temporary school commission (do not confuse this with the educational commission) to investigate text books, etc.

Thus the board, the chairman of which is the Ex-Rev. George Totten and two other appointees of the executive, with the superintendent of public instruction and the commissioner of agriculture and labor as ex-officio members, was given power to name a school commission to investigate the text books and make recommendations. The board given this power appointed a socialist as its secretary. The board never named the school commission to investigate the text books. Why? Because, according to the best information available it could not find men among the school officials who would promise in advance of its investigation to make the kind of report it wished it to make.

The state superintendent of instruction formerly was in charge of the certification of teachers. The law quoted above takes that power away and gives it to the educational commission. True the state superintendent of public instruction is ex-officio chairman of that commission. But the other four members are appointed by the board of administration and this board named Rockne, Hollis, Bell and Berg. It put in charge of the certification of teachers a man who is employed in the motor vehicle registration department. This department is a mile from the capitol. The result is that his authority is delegated to an employee in the board of administration office. So cunningly is the law twisted that the state superintendent is robbed of her power.

The secretary of this commission, appointed by opponents of Miss Nielson, wrote letters to members of the commission calling a meeting. He did not even notify Miss Nielson, the chairman. The commission has met without members doing the courtesy of informing Miss Nielson that the board was in session.

The supreme court has held that the board of administration, headed by the radical, unfrocked preacher, has final authority to prescribe the course of study for the common schools. Miss Nielson may prepare the course, she may toil over it for days, and then send it to the board, which may do with it as the members see fit.

A great load of records on educational matters was taken out of Miss Nielson's office when she assumed it.

The socialistic leaders who sought complete control of the schools and to render Miss Nielson completely powerless, did not accomplish everything they sought—many honest men in the legislature rebelled.

There are other laws than those quoted above by which efforts have been made to destroy Miss Nielson's usefulness. The ones quoted are so cunningly devised that they, when analyzed, are prima facie evidence of an effort to accomplish something by circumvention which the authors dared not do openly.

A great power over school teachers has been given through control of the certification. Great power over the schools has been given socialistic leaders in other measures.

But they have not destroyed Miss Nielson's usefulness, nor curbed her enthusiasm in her efforts to raise the standards of North Dakota schools, and to mould education on proper lines.

Those who know Miss Nielson, who have become acquainted with her work, have wondered at her ability to go straight ahead, without bitterness or malice in her actions, disregarding politics, always remaining constant to the duty her title, at least, prescribes.

She made but one political speech in the primary campaign, and that was a speech rather to an audience which wanted to hear a political speech, but which heard only her story of her fight for the right to exercise the duties prescribed for her office.

She has faithfully attended board meetings when she was one woman against four men, all anxious to hurt her prestige, to destroy her usefulness. She has given her best advice, she has spoken forcefully for the things she believed right for the schools.

The women of North Dakota may feel proud that their votes in the primary, on a nonpolitical ballot, gave Miss Nielson a huge majority. They may well feel proud that the schools of North Dakota have as their head, elected by the people, a woman who is an educator of ability and a woman who has shown sterling integrity and fearless purpose.

The politician who, in a state where the schools are decreed by law apart from politics, raises his voice against Miss Nielson must, indeed, be brazen.

Up in Burleigh county Ed. Patterson, chairman of the board of county commissioners, loans out the county road machinery to league farmers in that vicinity while the fellows who are paying the taxes have to ride over roads that are of the corduroy variety. It is about time that the people up there elected some commissioners who will use the road machinery for the people instead of for helping our pets of the league.—Valley City Times Record.

AS IT LOOKS TO ME FOR

Washington, Oct. 7. I saw a picture called "The Right to Love." The title was misleading. It was a bit of propaganda against Britishers. It characterized an Englishman as a cruel and heartless husband mistreating an American girl. It showed the Englishman reprimanding his child for wearing American colors, calculated to make an audience hiss. Whether this is deliberate propaganda or boneheadedness on the part of the men who edit the scenarios, makes no difference in the result.

Prohibitionists and progressives will be glad to see Daniel Garrett, Houston, Tex., return to Congress. Garrett, formerly a congressman-at-large, was defeated by failure to return to Texas in 1914 to make a campaign when President Wilson was keeping congress busy, but in 1916 was re-elected. Then the state was redistricted and Garrett ran against Eagle in the Eighth district and was defeated. Eagle retired this time. Garrett ran against Harry V. Fisher, world war veteran, and won.

I had a talk here a few months ago with Ray Schalk, Sox catcher. He was bitterly opposed to the gamblers, but was opposed to being quoted. "Kid" Gleason was also afraid to appear in print against the gamblers. Both of these men have so far come through the investigation clean, but they are in a measure to blame for not being fearless in denouncing openly the corruptly recognized to be striking in a deadly manner at the national pastime.

The Experiences Of Hiram Wise

INTRODUCTION
"Hiram Wise is a farmer of the old school who believes in the 'emancipation of humanity.' Being a forward looking man, he is one of the first to join the Nonpartisan league when its organizers visited his community. While his varied experiences are told in story form, practically every one of them has been duplicated in real life. "Bobs" speech has been written in dialect in order to carry out the general idea—it is 'Hiram' who is doing the talking, telling the reader of his experiences with the Nonpartisan league in emancipating North Dakota. —The Author.

I've been asked a lot of times how I ever happened to get caught in this Nonpartisan league an' now I'm goin' to tell the full details of the transaction. You see, we had been hearin' of these 'in Lizzie tellers all summer, who went around talkin' to the farmers an' joinin' them in a new organization, but as yet no one had appeared in our immediate community. One day I asked old Joe Conns, who lives on 'other side o' Muskrat Creek, if they had called on him yet an' he said they had. "Wait," sez I, "who are they anyway?" "I don't know who they are," sez Joe, "but they sure all hinin' up the farmers out our way to heat the dickens." "What air they tellin' you," sez I. "Wal," sez Joe, "I wuz told not to say anything about it, but bein' as we all good friends I don't mind tellin' you that if the farmers do as them guys tell 'em to, they are goin' to knock politics into a cocked hat, an' set the state on fire." "The farmers air goin' to do that?" sez I. "Pshaw, Joe, you know the farmers always vote the Republican and Democrat tickets just as their daddies did before 'em." "Mebbe so, H, mebbe so," sez Joe, but just wait till the next election, an' you'll see a new deal in town. Now I gettin' late, an' I promised Sal to be home in time to drive her over to see Jen Biggs, who is makin' Sal a new dress to wear to Patty Brown's wedding. But these organizers will be to see you some o' these days an' then you'll know all about it.

Wal, I could see plain enough he didn't want to let the cat out o' the bag any too much himself even if we wuz o' friends o' some twenty years standin' so I kept on gittin' curiousest an' curiousest about this new scheme. An' about the time I felt I just had to find out about it, one day I see a 'in Lizzie headed toward the house an' goin' like the dickens. I see right away the feller in it wuz a stranger an' when he'd stopped, he asked if here wuz where Hiram Wise lived. I told him it wuz an' also told him I wuz the party mentioned an' if he had anything to say to spit it out. "Wal," he said, I represent the Farmers Nonpartisan League, the organization that will drive Big Business off the earth an' knock the 'stiffin' out o' the big corporations. When he'd said this he stopped to draw a breath an' went on: "You my friend, have been cheated, swindled an' skinned by a bunch of gamblers and speculators, your crops are stolen from you an' you have to take what they offer for them. You an' your family live in destitushun an' want, while the gamblers fatten at your expense. You know all this is true." Wal, now his arguments sounded convincin' like, although durin' my sixty odd years I had got together quite a lot of this world's goods, as fine a firm as you'd see in a day's drive an' all paid for, too, besides a nice nest egg in the Hennepot Center bank still I had worked mighty hard all my life an' as had Mary Ann, my wife, an' if that wuz a bunch o' grafters cheatin' us out o' a good part o' our earnin's I wuz mighty glad to know about it, an' also to know how we could put a stop to it.

No," sez he, "our idea is to get the farmers all to join together to put

BALLOTING FOR NAMES IN HALL OF FAME ENDS TODAY OVER NATION; 204 CELEBRITIES WERE NOMINATED

New York, Oct. 7.—Balloting has closed for the quinquennial election of 20 additional famous American men and 10 famous American women to the Hall of Fame. There are 204 celebrities nominated for that honor. The result of the election will not be made public until November 1.

The Hall of Fame, a national institution, is located on the heights of New York university, overlooking the Hudson and Harlem rivers. It was organized 20 years ago with a gift of $100,000, which has since been increased to $250,000 the money to be used in building a museum and colonnade 500 feet long and to contain 150 panels for memorial bronze tablets. Fifty were to be inscribed in 1900 and at the close of every five years thereafter, five additional panels were to be placed, so that the entire number would be completed by A. D. 2,000. Only 56 in all, however, have been elected since the first votes were cast 20 years ago.

The ballots in the present election, which were mailed last July to 102 electors in various parts of the United States, college presidents, historians, statesmen, scientists, authors, editors, business men, publicists and others, contain the names of 177 men and 27 women, of whom 111 men and 23 women were holdover nominations from previous elections. The initials "M. J. F." alongside the names of 20 men and one woman indicate that in a preliminary public nomination last May a majority of a special group of electors designed them as being "more justly famous." This makes them eligible to election by a majority vote and all others must have two-thirds of the vote cast. In the absence of Dr. Robert Underwood Johnson, now United States Ambassador to Italy, the balloting is in charge of the Acting Director of the Hall of Fame, Mrs. William Vanamee of this city.

"No Socialist," sez I, "that kind o' bunk don't go with me, but I have voted, both the Republican an' democrat tickets. Put me down as a Democrat." "No," sez he, "I'll put you down as a Republican, they are the strongest party in the state, so our men will all come under that ticket." "How's that," sez I. "You mean for the farmers to all vote alike?" "Yes," sez he, "that's just it, eggactly, I see you are well named, Mr. Wise. I had to explain for an hour before your neighbor could see through our plan." That it wuz in a nutshell, git the farmers to all vote alike, put up their own candy-dates an' they could walk off with the hull shootin' match. A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up
This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Ready and cheaply made.
Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.
To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of honey into a pint bottle, add all the bottle of plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.
Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes of the throat.
To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FALL

BY EDMUND VANCE COOKE
Peaches and pawpaws and honey, Pumpkins and pears
Ripe for the fair, Yellow and mellow and sunny;
Beans and tomatoes, Cans and potatoes,
All of them cheaper than money; Apples and plums,
Grapes big as thumbs; Soft, sifted sunshine poured over them all;
Hey for the days of the Fall!
Mornings are mystic and tender; Woods like bouquets
Brighten the days; Earth is a waster and spender;
Purple and gold Fold upon fold
Deck her in riotous splendor.
Langorous laziness Flavors the haziness;
Something within me responds to its call;
Hey for the days of the Fall!

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Linton, N. D., Oct. 7, 1920.
Editor Tribune.
Gentlemen:
Pursuant to the request of the local organization supporting the Hon. J. F. T. O'Connor for Governor, I submit herewith a brief statement of his campaign in Emmons county.
The undersigned accompanied him from Bismarck to Moffit, Braddock, Hazelton, and Linton, where he spoke on the 5th. He spoke to packed houses with great attention. Women well represented. I made brief introductory remarks.
The interest in his behalf is very strong, and genuine in the county. Everywhere I heard compliments of real merit. Everybody seems impressed by the clean and dignified appeal he makes, and by the clear statement of fundamentals involved in the campaign.
Yours in haste for a real victory the 2nd of November.
Respectfully yours,
C. F. KELSCHE.

WHEN WILL BREAD DROP?

Bismarck Tribune.
Bismarck, N. D.
Gentlemen:
As a citizen of this city (which I think is the heat in the state) I will ask permission to ask a few questions. With wheat selling around $2.00 and less, and Minneapolis and flour $5.45 to $5.80 per cwt. that we are not entitled to a cut on bakery products. A loaf of bread with weight marked 24 oz. is still selling for 20 cents. When wheat was $3.00 per bushel and flour $15.00 to $16.00 per barrel, bakers were not at all backward about boosting the staff of life and the public was satisfied. But when the price of wheat drops one-third and still no reduction in our daily bread, it is a wonder that there is a feeling of discontent among the people.
I would be pleased to have the bakers of this or any other city, answer this through the columns of this paper. I personally think if bread went up 100 per cent on $3.00 wheat it should drop 33 1-3 per cent. on $2.00 wheat.

BROOKLYN AND INDIANS FIGHT FOR ADVANTAGE

Each Team Anxious to Win Today's Game Before Journeying to Cleveland

GRIMES PROVES A STAR

New York Oct. 7.—Going into the third game of the world series today the Brooklyn and Cleveland teams were on even terms, each team having won a game, Cleveland taking the first 3 to 1 and Brooklyn winning yesterday 3 to 0.

Manager Robinson and Speaker were both particularly anxious to win in order to have the advantage when the teams after today's battle go to Cleveland Saturday.

It was expected that Robinson would send in Sherrod Smith, south paw against Walter Mails, Speaker's young Pacific coast star who beat the White Sox in the last series of the teams. The pitching of a south paw by Brooklyn necessitates changes in the Cleveland line-up composed chiefly of left handed batters.

The victory which placed the Super-Jas alongside the Speakers in Indians in point of games, was due almost entirely to the excellent hurling of Grimes, who had the junior league baffled throughout the game so far as consecutive binging was concerned. With the exception of the eighth inning when Grimes temporarily lost sight of the home plate Cleveland never appeared in the light of a serious contender.

The inability of the Indians to connect with Grimes slants when hits would have meant run is apparent. As illustrated by the fact that the Cleveland clan got 14 runners on the bags of whom 10 were stranded and four retired by subsequent plays. The Indians were not without repeated opportunities to score but in every emergency Brooklyn's moist ball star met the emergency with a master's collection of sharp breaking curves or slow breaks, which cut the corners of the plate or shot in close to the body of the batter with the result that the seven hits that the invaders got were so scattered as to be useless in run production.

The official figures announced by the national commission showed that in both a lull and a receipt the figures tell in favor of Tuesday. The paid attendance was 22,749, the receipts $7,164. This makes total receipts for the two days of $15,213. The division of this money for the two days follows:

Ten per cent to national commission $7,164.

Sixty per cent of balance to players $8,517.02.

Remainder to clubs $, 876.88.

The players' share in the receipts of the first five games and their pool is divided 75 per cent to the players of the teams participating in the world's series and 25 per cent to the players of the teams finishing second and third in the National and American leagues.

An complete pitching analysis of the game shows that while Grimes, in the victor's role, threw the ball to the Cleveland batters 120 times in nine innings his two opponents Bagby and Mails had a total of 95 for eight innings of which Bagby threw 69, in six innings and Mails 26, in two.

In the eighth inning Grimes had a perfect 27th time, a record for the present series. Of these pitches 14 were balls and three men walked to first but Cleveland failed to score. The three Brooklyn runs were scored off Bagby in the first, third and fifth in which innings he made 12, 12 and 19 pitches, respectively.

URGE TRIBUNAL TO PURGE GAME OF ALL EVILS

Four Clubowners Propose That There Be Named a Board of Three to Sit

Chicago Ill. Oct. 7.—A new plan for the conduct of baseball proposed by the Pittsburgh National League club, the Chicago American League club, the Chicago National and New York National club is before the baseball world today. The plan was explained in detail here.

If baseball is to continue to exist as our National game (and it will) it must be with the recognition on the part of the club owners and players, that the game itself belongs to the American people and not to either owners or players, says the manifesto issued by the club owners.

The national commission, baseball's supreme body composed of presidents of the American and National leagues, is held to have too great power over organized baseball. The club owners proposed that there shall be a Superior Tribunal (in no way connected with baseball) which shall be composed of the three most prominent men obtainable, regardless of the compensation necessary, which shall have reviewable authority over president.

dents of all leagues club owners "and every other person, act or thing connected with the national game."

Some of the names proposed for such a body are General Pershing, Judge Ifft, Senator Johnson, Judge Landis, General Wood and former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

"Owners and league presidents as well as players would be under the control of the Tribunal," it says. "If an owner committed an act which the Tribunal felt was unethical, unportsmanlike or destructive of the morale of the game, the Tribunal would have the right to reprimand the guilty party, to fine him without limit or even declare the franchise forfeited."

Club owners believe that with the Chicago baseball scandal hanging like a ball over organized baseball, some method must be taken to convince the public that it is but a few men, now outcasts who have polluted the national game.

The grand jury which indicted the seven White Sox players is to continue its investigations.

Two days later, on Oct. 14, Harry Greb and Gunboat Smith are matched to box at Fort Wayne and the winner being Champion Jack Dempsey.

The Fort Wayne match is being staged by Eugene Kessel, newspaperman there. Kessel expects to pull off other matches during the winter months.

DUCK HUNTING IN MINNESOTA AT ITS HEIGHT

Cool Weather Brings Hunters From Many States

N. D. PEOPLE THERE

St. Paul, Minn. Oct. 7.—Cool weather coming the last week in September was the first real call of the season to the duck hunters, when reports were received from points in Canada that the ducks in that section had begun leaving the breeding grounds.

Throughout the Ten Thousand Lakes country, duck hunters began preparations for hurried trips to their favorite passes, should word be received that the real flight had begun. The weather moderated, however, and excellent shooting is assured in virtually every section of the state until after the first real heavy weather.

The first frost drove out the less hardy birds from the northern section, bringing them to the rice beds in northern Minnesota, where hunters reported the sport during the first days of October. Cawwacks, mallards and teal were on the wing over the passes, early and late, giving the hunters the sport which was missed during the opening weeks of the season.

Unseasonably warm weather during the opening of ten days resulted in many long automobile and train trips and scanty bags. Birds which were taken could not be kept for more than a day.

The real shooting is expected during the coming two weeks. Old time hunters are not favorably impressed with conditions. Heavy weather, sleek with a bit of snow and cold enough to cause the water to freeze to the paddle of the duck boat, is the wish of those who are in the duck country or are waiting in offices in town for word that the redheads and bluebills are on the way south.

Geese hunting in Minnesota, except in the west end, is not expected to be particularly good. The larger waterfowl prefer the western passage usually coming down in large numbers over the Dakota prairies, interrupting their long flight with stops at cornfields adjacent to bodies of water.

Numerous hunters from this section favor the flight in the Dickinson, N. D. territory while others find hunting to their satisfaction in the region of Eckelson.

Virtually any chain of lakes in the state will furnish pass shooting to the satisfaction of the most exacting when the flight is on.

Beginning October 15, hunters will have an opportunity denied them for several years. On that day and until the end of November partridge and ruffed grouse may be shot. Reports from the northern section of the state show that the birds are almost as tame as barnyard fowl in the vicinity of Brainerd and north and east of Duluth the woods hold thousands of these birds, the majority of which do not know what it is to be hunted. Limit bags are expected the opening days of the season.

Moose and deer are also reported to be plentiful. Last year was an exceptional season, hunters getting their limit without difficulty. With proper weather conditions this season, forest rangers believe big game hunters will find bagging of deer and moose a comparatively easy task.

Particularly good fishing in lakes and streams has been reported following the first frost. The large mouth bass, which have furnished the fishermen a wild season striking during the months they are supposed to show little interest, went on a rampage together with the small mouth and the silver bass. Large strings were taken from lakes and streams, especially from the bass, the walleye, and snook pike struck when ever a nice fat shiner drifted in their direction.
